

Dwayne Perkins

Brooklyn native, Dwayne Perkins, is a young vet in the comedy game. With appearances on Late Night with Conan O'Brien, The Late Late Show with Craig Ferguson, and Premium Blend, Perkins has earned a spot in today's class of elite stand-up comics. Perkins is a regular crowd pleaser in New York, Boston, and Los Angeles. The recent culmination of Perkins' talent and work has resulted in his very own Comedy Central Presents half-hour special. The very well received special showcases Perkins' unique way of looking at life and unparalleled ability to convey it in a hilarious manner. In many ways still a newbie himself, Perkins is already inspiring newer comics.

With his comedy well-grounded and still growing, Perkins now sets his sights on acting and writing. Look for Perkins in the HBO movie "The Gristle". Dwayne's Comedy Central half hour special, a culmination of his talent and hard work, was very well received and voted one of the top 25 Comedy Central specials of all time.
