

Esther Ku

Esther Ku is an internationally touring stand-up comedian originally from Chicago. She has appeared in many shows such as NBC's Last Comic Standing, MTV's Girl Code, Nick Cannon's Wild' n Out on MTV2, Comedy Central's @Midnight, The Jack & Triumph Show, Punchline TV or The Jim Gaffigan Show. She is also a member of the all-female sketch show Sorry Not Sorry on go90. She has been a guest on The Joe Rogan Experience, Getting Doug with High, The Opie Show with Jim Norton on Sirius XM, Jenny McCarthy's Dirty Sexy Funny Show on Sirius XM Stars, and The Playboy Morning Show. She was selected by Howard Stern as a finalist in the Hottest Funniest Chick Contest and has appeared on the Artie Lange Show on Direct TV.

She officially began stand-up in Boston when she got a job as a travelling pen sales representative. She has been a featured regular in the Boston International Comedy Festival and the New York Underground Comedy Festival. She has performed in the hit comedy Shear Madness, the longest-running non-musical play in American theatre history. She now travels the world entertaining audiences with her bratty charm and infamous maniacal laugh. She is the host of her own podcast Ku and the Gang on iTunes.